General resources available:

The HBA highly recommends bookmarking these resources for quick access!

- Resource Center (you are here!) - this houses all of HBA's non-proprietary volunteer resources, help articles and more.
- HBA Community - our Community is a virtual forum to connect with other HBA members in your area and across the globe. It is also the platform HBA uses to connect our volunteer leaders with one another in various functional and leadership groups for discussions and best practice sharing, to communicate important information, and to house all of our proprietary resources. Click here for more information
 - IMPORTANT: HBA Leaders Community: this is the HBA's dedicated forum for all volunteer communications, including important announcements from HBA Central, updates, and more, while also acting as a forum for best practice sharing, questions, advice from peers, and so much more.
- HBA Policy Handbook - familiarize yourself with all sections relevant to your role
- HBA Website: our HBA website is the hub of the organization, where our members, volunteers and companies can learn about our organization, our events, locations, awards and more. Your HBA Profile also includes a slew of resources only accessible to volunteers and based on your role (please note, you will only have access to modules relevant to your role, not all of those listed below). Modules include things such as:
 - Reports (membership, volunteer, corporate partner, and more)
 - Event resources (event setup form, speaker agreement, registration reports, etc)
 - Volunteer management and awards modules
 - And more...
- And finally, HBA staff - are there to support and enable you
